

Mobile Applications for FACS

Non-Cluster Specific

(Across-The-Board = Non-Program Specific)

Name and Description of Project:

Use of modern technology can enhance the curriculum instruction of Family and Consumer Sciences. Mobile Applications through the interface of iPod, iPhone, and iPad devices correlated to the curriculum standards set forth in course frameworks for multiple Family and Consumer Science courses. While the attached example in no way encompasses the full list of acceptable uses, it does serve as an outline to connect real life applications to course frameworks and can be used as a starting point for further exploration into the use and development of related Apps. The listing includes correlation of some Apps to course frameworks and presents a template for expected documentation needed to justify use in classroom instruction.

Major Activities:

- Professional development training for each teacher using iPods, iPads, and/or iPhones prior to classroom use.
- Technical support to insure proper implementation of software and hardware.
- Continued technical support and professional development as upgrades in software are made available.
- Purchase of additional Apps as the market changes.

Performance Indicator:

CTE skill attainment

Measurement:

The success of this project will be measured by improvements in end of course test results in general and specific improvement in objectives as documented for individual Apps.

Professional Development:

Teachers will attend professional development provided by the state office to implement this project. Professional development is needed during the initial implementation and continued throughout use as teachers become more familiar with the mobile devices and as additional Apps are released or updated.

Instructional Materials/Supplies:

None required

Equipment:

iPad Mobile Device with case, charger, adapter, and earphones = Classroom Set iPod device with case, charger adapter, and earphones = Classroom set
Additional accessories with justification for use with App and correlating framework

Software:

See attached example for sample Apps with correlating frameworks. Additional Apps are encouraged with similar correlation for use with frameworks.
